

WASHINGTON STAR

16 APR 1970

Jack Hullett, 43,
Editor With Post

Jack Francis Hullett, 43, metropolitan news editor of the Washington Post for the last four years, died yesterday in George Washington University Hospital after a heart attack. He lived at 13229 Clifton Road, Silver Spring.

Mr. Hullett was a native of Florida and a graduate of the University of Alabama. He was news editor of the Nashville Tennessean for eight years before joining the Post staff.

He leaves his wife, the former Betty Sheets; two sons, Frank and Charles; three daughters, Ann, Patricia and Judy; his father, William J., of Tuscaloosa, Ala., and a sister, Katherine Hullett of Los Angeles.

Memorial services are to be at 2 p.m. Saturday at Colesville United Presbyterian Church, 12800 New Hampshire Ave., Silver Spring.

The family requests that expressions of sympathy be in the form of contributions to Children's Hospital.